

September 18th, 2006

New: Delft School of Design Series

Aaron Betsky, director of the Netherlands Architecture Institute, holds up the first copies of the Delft School of Design Series on Architecture and Urbanism (photo by Roemer van Toorn). These series were launched in festive style in Venice on September 8th, 2006.

1 Crossover

2 The Body in Architecture

3 De-/signing the Urban

These three books chart the research projects carried out at the Delft School of Design during the past few years. Their contents range from theoretical papers to descriptions of projects relating to architecture, urbanism and film and contributions to workshops, seminars and lectures by renowned guest professors, academic staff and PhD candidates.

The Delft School of Design (DSD) is a testing ground for research and experimentation in architecture, urbanism and building technology at the TU Delft. Founded in 2003, this relatively new organization has already built up an international reputation as one of Europe's key loci of research activity in these fields. For further information about the DSD click on <http://web.bk.tudelft.nl/dsd>.

---

Uitgeverij 010 Publishers / Watertorenweg 180 / 3063 HA Rotterdam

t +31 (0)10 4333509 / f +31 (0)10 4529825

office@010publishers.nl / www.010publishers.nl

