NEW: METROPOLITAN WORLD ATLAS

Featuring Peking, Lagos, London, Los Angeles, Rio de Janeiro, Tokyo and 95 other metropolitan areas, this atlas enables you to compare at a glance such statistics as population density, use of the underground, data traffic, average speed on motorways and the average temperature in July. Another stand-out feature is its design - as you might expect of a OIO atlas.

This account of the history of the Zuidas (Southern Axis) development corridor in Amsterdam is at the same time a springboard for debate on its future. Pieter Tordoir, Rob van Engelsdorp Gastelaars and Anton Kreukels give their expert views on the subject from their respective backgrounds. Includes photoessays by lensman and architect Allard van der Hoek.
