Have you finished your Christmas shopping yet? If not, OIO Publishers has the following great suggestions for the holidays!

FASHION / DESIGN: NEW COVER TO UN.COVER. BODY + CONTEXT + IMAGE

Giene Steenman observes, registers, documents, collects, indexes, reacts and researches the relationship between the body and fashion resulting in catchy descriptions and mysterious photographs. Sometimes she is ahead of fashion, sometimes she follows in its footsteps. She circles around it and by registering images she searches for events and histories of clothes and their wearers. In this book, cover to un.cover, she shows a selection of pictures and notes from her sizeable research archive. This book reaches beyond the disciplines of fashion and photography. This makes it not only interesting to those who are already into photography and fashion but also to sociologists and coffee-table book devotees; potentially a December bestseller!

* book details: cover to un.cover. body + context + image / Giene Steenman / English / 400 pp / paperback / 21 x 14 cm / 370 b/w and 35 colour illustrations / Euro 29.50 / design Aagje Martens / ISBN 90 6450 539 X / For more information visit www.oiopublishers.nl and click on 'recent titles'

DESIGN: BLACK BAZAAR. DESIGN DILEMMAS

BLACK IS BACK

Selections from series of black vases, tables and furniture by Ineke Hans can currently be seen at the exhibition TIN in Rotterdam (www.boijmans.rotterdam.nl) and at Wonder Holland in Rome (www-s.nir-roma.it). In Black Bazaar, Ineke Hans not only shows her black products, she also extensively researches the colour black. From bankers in black suits to black stereo systems and from licorice to black tulips. A great gift which has even got the press excited!

What the press say:

- Rich and adventurous as a bazaar (Items # 1, 2004)
- Inspiring and beautifully designed (Vivenda, March 2004)
- This slim volume strikes black gold as a zoom lens into the symbolism of color in our surroundings (I.D., May 2004)

ARCHITECTURE: NEW ZZDP. ARCHITECTS-ENTREPRENEURS

A monograph on one of the biggest Dutch architectural offices. The Shell office building at Hofplein in Rotterdam; the two towers, Rembrandtoren and Mondriaantoren, in Amsterdam; the '60s flats in the Duttendel area of The Hague; the former Nissan complex on the Amsterdam ring road. These are images encountered daily by many in the Netherlands, yet it is less generally known, even among the Dutch, that all these buildings were designed by ZZDP Architecten. One of the Netherlands' largest architectural practices for several decades now, ZZDP Architecten is responsible for many of the buildings in our day-to-day environment. What else has ZZDP designed and what sets it apart from other Dutch practices? Noor Mens addresses these issues and much more besides in the lavishly illustrated monograph ZZDP Architects-Entrepreneurs.

* book details: ZZDP. Architects-Entrepreneurs / Noor Mens / Dutch/English / 208 pp / hardcover / 24 x 28 cm / 150 b/w and 120 colour illustrations / Euro 45.00 / Design by Bart Kaper / ISBN 90 6450 513 6 / For more information visit www.010publishers.nl and click on 'recent titles'.

ARCHITECTURE: UNSEEN I SLIPPED AWAY

The first part of an intriguing trilogy. What are sovereignty and singularity in a world adrift on a sea of generic and global views? What is identity in an age when it is unfashionable to utter the word? And how can one design a particular and precise object without it compromising its ambiguity? In answering these questions architect Maurice Nio seeks to approach architecture from its extremities rather than researching its nucleus. It is an investigation of the most conceptual and the most technical aspects, of the most abstract and the most personal. Everything normally passing for architecture is relegated to the sidelines. Unseen I slipped away is the first book in a trilogy entitled Priority.

What the press say:

- Unseen I slipped away is as precise as it is mysterious. The texts have been written in a pleasant, almost literary manner with lots of references to literature and film. They form a valuable addition to the average architecture literature and provide food for thought (Piet Vollaard on www.archined.nl, August 19th 2004)
- The series of interior photographs and detailed pictures is especially fine (Items # 4, 2004)
