Here's no shortage of reading matter this autumn. We at OIO have no less than five hefty new volumes this month and even more bargain basement items than usual.

NEW: PAUL SCHUIITEMA

'Right ahead' was how Schuitema described his style. You can read what he meant by that in this first, lavishly illustrated monograph on Paul Schuitema. The work done by this graphic designer, photographer, furniture maker and film-maker in the 1920s and '30s is still popular today. Schuitema's chairs will soon be obtainable again at De Bijenkorf department stores.

Paul Schuitema. Visual Organizer / Dick Maan / design Huug Schipper / English / ISBN 978 90 6450 600 0 / euro 39.50

Also in German: ISBN 978 90 6450 601 9

And in Dutch: ISBN 978 90 6450 599 7

NEW: L'AUBETTE

In the 1920s Theo van Doesburg, in association with Hans Arp and Sophie Taeuber-Arp, completely redesigned the interior of an 18th-century building in Strasbourg to produce this famous dance hall, one of the key works of De Stijl. This book was prompted by the recently completed restoration of L'Aubette.

De Aubette of de kleur in de architectuur. Een ontwerp van Hans Arp, Sophie Taeuber-Arp en Theo van Doesburg / Mariet Willinge, Emmanuel Guignon, Hans van der Werf (eds) / design Lex Reitsma / Dutch / ISBN 978 90 6450 597 3 / euro 34.50

NEW: DSD SERIES ON ARCHITECTURE AND URBANISM

The Delft School of Design has been extremely active in the three years since it was founded. This much is clear from these three hefty tomes of theoretical essays and descriptions of projects relating to architecture, urbanism and film, workshops, seminars and lectures. These three books were first presented at the Architecture Biennale in Venice. For more information about the DSD visit <http://eb.bk.tudelft.nl/dsd>.
